WHO WE ARE

www.unipa.it

www.orientamento.unipa.it

Founded in 1806 by Ferdinand III, of the Bourbon royal family which ruled over the Kingdom of Naples and the Two Sicilies, who made Accademia Panormitana degli Studi a University, now UniPa, ours is a huge campus with a vocation evenly divided up between teaching, research and third mission. The current educational programme consists of 144 courses of study ranging from undergraduate Degrees to Single Cycle Master Degrees and specialisation Degrees, 31 specialisation schools and 21 research doctorates.

The courses on offer cover vast fields of knowledge and combine tradition and experience with a constant openness to innovation, to the job market and to social inclusion.

A number of eminent scientific figures have studied at University of Palermo: astronomer Giuseppe Piazzi; chemist Stanislao Cannizzaro; architect Giuseppe Venanzio Marvuglia and Nobel Prize for Physics winner Emilio Segrè.

Giovanni Falcone and Paolo Borsellino and the President of the Republic, Sergio Mattarella, have also studied at UniPa.

PSYCHOLOGICAL COUNSELLING

www.unipa.it/strutture/orientamento/counselling-psicologico/

The psychological counselling service is free of charge and provided by University of Palermo's Guidance and Tutoring Centre.

Students can make use of psychological counselling services with a psychologist to help them cope with any difficulties, problems and uncertainties which may emerge during their time at the university.

The objective of the service is to supply a listening, supportive space in which to think about and clear up personal, interpersonal and family matters and identify coping strategies to use at times of difficulty. Students are helped to gain an understanding of emotional requirements, events and experiences seen as problematic and elaborate these, learning how to overcome hurdles in their own way.

Psychological counselling is designed to play a fundamentally important role in preventing and treating student psychological malaise. Its objectives encompass fostering student adaptation to the university organisational framework, facilitating and promoting psychological wellbeing, autonomy processes and individual and interpersonal responsibility.

Sessions can involve personal or group psychological support. This latter is especially suitable to fostering focus and problem visualisation and activating change by dialogue and mirroring with others.

Where individual sessions are concerned the service prioritises the short term, from a few to a maximum of ten approximately 40 minute sessions.

With group work the service offers fortnightly medium to long term sessions.

The service covers all students at the university, the central Palermo and Trapani, Agrigento and Caltanissetta campuses as well as students on transfer. Sessions can be in-person, at the COT offices, or on-line on the Microsoft Teams platform.

Psychological support is covered by professional secrecy regulations as regards both contents and the implementation of the service itself.

It is available in both Italian and English.

Students can request psychological counselling services from: counsellingpsicologico.cot@unipa.it

Requests are processed in around 5-7 days.

2 WHAT TO DO WHEN ARRIVING TO PALERMO

Codice Fiscale

The tax code is an identification code issued by the Ministry of Finance which is used to open a current account or to sign contracts. Citizens residing abroad can request it from the Italian diplomatic-consular representation in their country of residence. In Italy, it must be requested from the Revenue Agency Office of the city where you reside.

The complete list of offices in the province of Palermo can be found at www.agenziaentrate.gov.it/indirizzi/agenzia/uffici\_locali/lista.htm?m=2&pr=PA.

Remember to bring your passport with you.

Health coverage

To obtain Health coverage, you may either voluntarily register with the National Health Service or subscribe a private medical insurance. With the National Health Service (SSN) you can choose a referring medical doctor, who will take care of your health problems for free and will prescribe you medications, exams and any specialist visits. Registration is valid for one calendar year (from January 1st to December 31st). To register with the SSN:

SERVICES FOR STUDENTS

Academic calendar

The academic calendar is divided into two semesters: the first one from late September to February, and the second one from late February to July. Classes usually start in late September and end by mid-December; they start again in late February and end in late May. The exams of the first semester are held in January and February and those of the second semester in June and July. Each department publishes its academic calendar with class times and exam dates.

CFU and votes

Italian Degree courses are structured in University Credits (CFU), which are considered equivalent to ECTS (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System) credits (1 CFU = 1 ECTS). The CFU is the measure of the learning work and generally corresponds to 25 hours of student engagement (classes and personal study). A full-time student should achieve 60 credits each year, upon passing the exams, equal to 1500 hours of commitment. The credits do not replace the mark which is expressed out of 30: the minimum mark is equal to 18 and the maximum mark is equal to 30. Students can obtain "praise" (30 mark and honors) if their examination is considered excellent.

CFU & VOTES

Italian Degree courses are structured in University Credits (CFU)

equivalent to ECTS (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System) credits

1 CFU = 1 ECTS

The tax amounts are calculated on the basis of the ISEE “parificato” for international students with the family residing abroad.

To allow the effective exercise of the right to study, Unipa provides students with various types of financial aids: exemptions and reductions in fees, scholarships, Degree awards, also through ERSU (the regional Agency for the right to study).

LIVING IN PALERMO

 www.amat.pa.it

Getting around town

Students may reach Palermo by various means of transport, such as plane, train, bus, taxi and car. Once you reach the city, there are various possibilities for the traveller to get around it: the centre of Palermo can be easily visited on foot, thus avoiding travel by car, which would be chaotic, given the heavy traffic in the historic centre.

In the city you can also move using the public transport, (bus, tram, underground) or the bicycle, preferable in the historic centre which is a limited traffic area.

To encourage students to use public transport and to promote sustainable mobility, the University has provided subscriptions with the AMAT company at discounted prices for students:

- subscription for n. 4 lines of bus and/or tram:
amat.pa.it/percorsi-e-orari/;
 validity 30 days and cost €15.00

4 LIVING IN PALERMO

In addition, the University of Palermo and AMAT have signed an agreement for a sustainable mobility project dedicated to the university community (students, teachers and technical-administrative staff), providing discounted fares for the services AmiGO car sharing and Bike sharing. The agreement provides facilities dedicated to the entire university community for the purchase of the annual AmiGo car and Bike sharing subscription at a reduced price of 50%. The service can be activated by registering on the AmiGO by AMAT website or by downloading the AmiGO app for Android on Google Play or for iPhone on the App Store.
